

Three Way Protection Means Great Roses and Flowers

Growing beautiful roses and flowers can be a battle. Insects, including rose chaffers, Japanese beetles, spider mites and thrips, join forces with diseases like black spot, powdery mildew and rust to make rose and flower growing a challenge from bud to bloom. Gardeners who seek a natural way to protect their flowers from pests face the additional challenge of finding products that meet their needs in an Earth-friendly way.

Bonide's Rose Rx 3-In-1 rose and flower care meets the needs of all gardeners. It is an easy to apply, all-in-one product that provides protection against all 3 major categories of rose and flower pests – insects, diseases, and mites in one application. Formulated with Neem Oil, Rose Rx 3-In-1 can be applied any time to virtually any flowering plant for fast acting protection. It can even be used indoors on houseplants to protect against common diseases, insects and mites on those tender plants.

Neem Oil is a naturally occurring product which is extracted from the seeds of the Neem tree. Neem kills all life stages of insects and diseases by interfering with the life cycle of plant pests preventing them from reaching the mature stage at which they feed or do damage. Because Neem needs to be ingested by insects to be effective, it's very gentle on beneficial insects including bees, butterflies and beneficial predators. Bonide Rose Rx 3-In-1 is approved by the UDSA for organic gardening, meeting the criteria for a natural plant care product.

Bonide Rose Rx 3-In-1 can also be applied to listed fruits, nuts, vegetables, herbs and spices, to provide broad protection while meeting the needs of organic gardeners. Unlike other products, Rose Rx 3-In-1 works on all growth stages of insects, from egg to adult, so fewer applications are necessary, and because it combines insect, disease and mite control in one product, Bonide Rose Rx 3-In-1 eliminates the need to purchase and store multiple products to protect your plants.

Bonide Rose Rx 3-In-1 is available in both a convenient Ready to Use quart size and an economical pint size concentrate.

Now you can control many plant pests naturally with an application of Bonide Rose Rx 3-In-1, and enjoy beautiful roses, flowers and plants all season long!
